As part of our latest update, Emblem Sharing is now available on IOS 10. Thanks for playing! Ever since I updated to 3.0.4, I can't use the app because I'm stuck on the loading screen every time. I've tried closing all the apps and restarting my device (iPad mini 2) but it's still not loading. Apart from that, the Companion update was a massive improvement, although the Battle Screen feature was removed which I love to use but now I can't. The app performs a lot on PC, XBOX ONE®, PS4®, etc. it has an outstanding amount of features and works greatly. Although a great app you unfortunately can only experience it on newer consoles listed above, I myself have a PS3® and the app won't work because it's not compatible on its system, the same most likely applies to the XBOX 360®. This question is highly unlikely to be easy to in the app, but works the same way as when developed for newer consoles, so it would be a nice addition, apart from this as long as you are not on an aged platform you will will this Battlefield Companion! Freezes frequently when you try to change readouts. Multiple loadouts are not supported even though there is a + button. Description of different weapon variants does not change as it does in the game, instead it just show the default. Changed on: Twentieth, May 7, 2020 at 3:08 am If you're having trouble finding your profile, you'll need to follow the following steps: 1. Go to 2. Sign in with your EA/Xbox/PSn account. If you are Xbox or PSN, please log in w/ Xbox/PSN, not your email. 3. Click on the Battlefield 1 section to go to your BF1 Careers page. 5. Make sure you watch your career on Battlefield 1. The URL should end with /karrãr/12345678/bf1 (12345678 will be your number) 4. Copy the page's URL. 5. Paste it into the Battlefield Tracker search box. Make sure your platform is selected too! If the Battlefield 1 section says Get it Now or a similar phrase, go to the Settings menu on the career page (Settings at the top right ->) and change to the correct profile, then follow the steps again. This allows us to download your profile. But we won't be able to attach it to your gamertag. The display name on the page and leaderboards will look like 'Profile_202373691!'. You can now look up your profile with the name you just been assigned, it should be easily accessible through the Recent Players list. Once we've figured out a way to accurately display your gamertag, we'll update your profile automatically. Did you think it was helpful? Yes No Send feedback Sorry we couldn't be helpful.
